

Custom Stainless Steel Benching

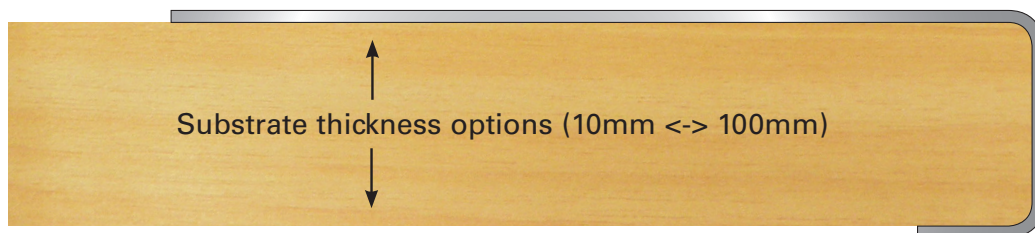

At Mercer Stainless, we have extensive experience in building a bench to fit your kitchen space and design requirements, we work closely with many joiners and architects throughout New Zealand to help us achieve this.

We use a variety of finishes and polishing specifications to give you the look you want. If you prefer, we will work with you individually to draw & build your bench top and aim to achieve everything you require. We do several different bench edge profiles and upstands* to make an easy space to keep clean and will look very smart.

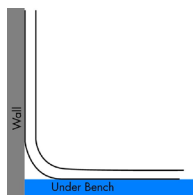

In addition to benches, we also manufacture a variety of outdoor BBQ benches, range hood flue covers, cabinet drawer & door fronts, splash backs, kick boards plates, bathroom equipment and custom made sink bowls.

* See reverse for profile edges and upstand examples
